

2020 Outstanding Junior Faculty Peer Reviewer Award

Diseases of the Esophagus will be giving an award to the top junior faculty Peer Reviewer of 2020 for the journal.

Award

- The winner of the award will receive complimentary registration to attend the 2021 ISDE World Congress that will be held virtually from September 27-30, 2021,
- The winner of the award will be recognized in the following ways:
  - September 2021 issue of Diseases of the Esophagus
  - At the DOTE Festival during the 2021 Virtual World Congress
  - On ISDE Social Media (Twitter, Facebook) in September 2021
- Complimentary ISDE membership of 1 year for regular member (expires December 31, 2022) or 2 years for trainee member (expires December 31, 2023),
- Certificate.

Judging Criteria

The winner of the award will be determined by the co-Editors in Chief of Diseases of the Esophagus. Criteria that will be considered include:

- Number of peer reviews that the individual completed,
- Timeliness of peer review completion,
- Quality of peer reviews.

Qualifications

- The peer reviewer must be an advanced trainee physician or a junior faculty physician with less than 8 years from completion of training from January 1, 2020,
- Only peer reviews completed between January 1, 2020, and December 31, 2020 will be considered for the award.

Are you interested in becoming a Diseases of the Esophagus reviewer?

Please, register for the peer review process for Diseases of the Esophagus on <https://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/des> and create an account in the Scholar One manuscript managing system.

- Enter an accurate email address and contact information,
- Enter in all your areas of interest and expertise as these are used by the editorial board to assign manuscripts to you for peer review.

If you already have an account in the Scholar One manuscript managing system, make sure to update your email address, contact information, and areas of interest/expertise.

If you have any questions, please email DiseasesoftheEsophagus@oup.com.

Sincerely,

Giovanni Zaninotto and Neil Gupta
Editors in Chief
Diseases of the Esophagus